BOY (15) ACCUSED OF RAPE

A 15-YEAR-OLD boy accused of raping a girl of 14 in bushes just yards from a busy road denied the allegation when he appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court this week.

The defendant, who lives in Harlow but cannot be named for legal reasons, is alleged to have sexually assaulted the girl near to the NCP multi-storey car park in Kitson Way earlier this year.

The court heard the pair met up at the bus station in Terminus Street after the girl finished school on May 11 and started walking through the town centre towards the Total petrol station.

By COURT REPORTER

The boy then ran into bushes near the car park, claiming he was hiding from his father who had banned him from the town.

Prosecutor Richard Burrington told the court: "The defendant saw his father drive past. The boy wasn't supposed to be in town and his reaction was to run into bushes."

The girl waited for him to emerge from the

An explosion of colour

THOUSANDS of people braved autumnal chills for explosive thrills at Harlow's bonfire night extravaganza on Sunday night.

A bumper crowd of around 18,000 people converged on the Town Park for the council-funded show.

Fifth Avenue was closed before and during the event because of the large number of spectators arriving on foot at the showground.

Council chairwoman Sue

The celebrations then exploded into life when the first giant rockets lit up the skies above the town at the start of an impressive 20-minute display of pyrotechnics.

Council leader Andrew Johnson said: "The event is one of the biggest in the area and drew a crowd of over 18,000 people.

"There are not many events like this which are free to enter, and it was great to see so many families coming to the Town Park together. "There was an amazing fireworks display which the crowd appreciated with a huge round of applause at the end. "I would like to thank the council staff who helped run the event smoothly so many could enjoy the night's events."

Heartbroken owner fears killer may be targeting cats

TWO neighbours believe a twisted cat killer may be on the prowl after four of their pets died in a matter of months.

Nicola Donaldson (40), of Rushes Mead, fears the worst following the unexplained deaths of three of her cats.

And neighbour Stacey Ward has lost five cats in three years, the last in September.

Ms Donaldson said vets had discovered traces of anti-freeze in her one-year-old cat Cowley. And on the same day Cowley fell ill, a stray she had adopted also went missing and has not been seen again.

FURIOUS: Nicola Donaldson with another of her cats, Herbert

"Cowley was taken to the Royal Veterinary College because he was insured," she said. "They did a lot of tests on him to find out what was the matter."

"They couldn't save him but they did find anti-freeze crystals in his urine and they believed that was what killed him."

Last week Ms Donaldson's cat Mini died after displaying the same symptoms of poisoning and she now fears someone in the neighbourhood is responsible for the deaths.

"I'm absolutely furious," she said. "I cannot believe anybody would be so sadistic as to do something like this. The effect it has on cats is absolutely awful. It's a cruel, slow death; they cannot stand up or move."

"I couldn't believe it had happened again to one of my cats. I have two children who have lost two family pets and - they're devastated by their loss."

She added: "I don't know how the person responsible for this can live with themselves, inflicting suffering on a poor animal. If you don't like cats in your garden just get a water pistol or a horn."

Ms Donaldson said she was told by police and RSPCA officers that they cannot prosecute unless a killer is caught in the act.

Inspector Tom Mitchell, of Harlow police, said: "We are investigating the reports of cat deaths in the Rushes Mead area. Anyone found to be committing such a crime will be dealt with robustly."

Parties clash over council shake-up

A ROW has erupted between Harlow Council's ruling Conservative administration and opposition councillors after the Tories pushed through plans to scrap the current committee set-up.

Temper flared at a council meeting on Thursday when the Conservative group unanimously voted in favour of switching to

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

a Westminster-style cabinet and leader structure, even though the majority of people who responded to a public consultation on the proposals had called for the committee system to be retained.

Council leader Andrew Johnson told the meeting his group would ignore the results of the town-wide survey because only a "paltry" 137 residents - just 0.2 per cent of the town's population - had taken part.

"I have to say that I'm very unhappy with the results of the consultation exercise and I don't see how they tell us much at all," he said. "It's a real shame that people didn't get involved."

"But I think it shows that people in this town don't really care how Harlow is run as long as it is done with their best interests in mind and provides the services and benefits they expect."

"Moving to a leader and cabinet system will streamline and quicken the decision-making process. We are an innovative council and it's time to change to benefit the people we serve."

But Labour group leader Mark Wilkinson branded the consultation a "waste of public money".

"There is absolutely no point in spending taxpayers' money on a town-wide consultation just to completely ignore the results," he told the meeting.

Labour councillor Jean Clark added: "We had repeatedly called for the consultation documents to be redrafted to make it easier for residents to understand the options. The small number of respondents proves that our criticism was justified."

"Adopting an undemocratic cabinet system will mean there is a disproportionate amount of power concentrated in the hands of the few."

Liberal Democrat John Strachan echoed the concerns of Labour councillors, agreeing that the consultation exercise had been "completely inadequate".

"Sticking a leaflet in [council magazine] the Harlow Times and giving people two weeks to respond is not a proper consultation. The fact that most people don't even read their copy has been highlighted by the lack of response."

Under the new system, the council will continue to operate existing cross-party regulatory committees to deal with planning applications and licensing issues, but other decisions will be made by individual cabinet members with specialised responsibilities.

Although the system is used by around 93 per cent of local authorities across the country and is similar to the decision-making structure employed in central government, critics of its use at local authority level claim it is undemocratic and restricts the influence of opposition councillors.

Popping into The Petticoat for bite to eat

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

DO you know what the longest running show at the Harlow Playhouse was? The answer might surprise you.

Not even the theatre's fabled pantomimes can match the 12-year continuous run by this particular act – the popular Petticoat Restaurant.

The eatery opened for its first service in October 1981 and was masterminded by three employees who were determined to make the best of a bad situation.

Jean Green, Carol Durrant and Sylvia Swan were made redundant by the theatre when its in-house restaurant – the Variety – was closed down.

But instead of cursing their luck, the trio rolled up their sleeves and set about starting up a 'co-operative' restaurant.

They ploughed their redundancy cash into a new venture and CHEERS: The Playhouse restaurant hosted many events such as the theatre's fifth anniversary celebrations in 1976. At this stage it was still called the Variety and was under the control of the theatre. Among the theatre staff pictured are Jean Green and Sylvia Swan, third and fourth from the right, who later took over the restaurant with Carol Durrant (not pictured). In the centre of the picture is the theatre's then artistic director Reginald Birks.

between them distributed 3,000 leaflets around the town advertising the opening.

The emphasis was on attracting shoppers in The High with hot breakfasts and mid-morning coffee and cakes, and cream teas served in the afternoon.

The restaurant also served jacket potatoes with a range of fillings, including the Viking, which was a spud filled with Danish cheese.

Just reading one of their pricelists today is a refreshing blast from the past.

The 'meal of the day' was £1 while sausage, egg and French fried would cost you a paltry 70p and ham and eggs or a quiche Lorraine 85p.

The homemade specials included cottage pie and two veg for a single pound while for those with a bit more cash to splash could tuck into a steak pie for a princely £1.80.

The restaurant also opened for special occasions in the evenings with up to 80 covers.

The Petticoat thrived under the three ladies' stewardship for more than a decade but like all good things it came to an end and in August 1993 the trio were told to clear the tables for the last time.

The Harlow Theatre Trust's new partner was Leicester-based Contemporary Theatres, which said it wanted to take control of catering at The Playhouse.

Ironically, a few months later the company ran into financial troubles and left the theatre saddled with debts.

Jean, Carol and Sylvia were part of the original catering staff at the theatre and Sylvia, of Whitewaits, served sherry to the dignitaries at the theatre's star-studded opening night in 1971.

"It was a wonderful time running the restaurant," she told Nostalgia. "I spent 25 years in that room, it had such a great atmosphere and all the food was homemade from scratch on the premises."

"It seems like not a day goes by without someone saying 'I wish the Petticoat was still open' to me."

bushes but when he didn't she followed him in. She later told police he persuaded her to remove her blazer and then took off his jacket.

Mr Burrington said: "She describes him getting her to a wall and he went to undo her trousers.

"She asked him what he was doing before he pushed down her trousers and knickers and his own trousers.

"She tried to push him away but he manoeuvred her to the ground and simply carried on."

The girl later told friends, a school "listener", teaching staff, a nurse and police of her ordeal.

The boy, who denies a charge of rape, claimed during a police interview he had contacted the girl on Facebook but had not met her in the town on the day of the alleged offence.

He told officers that she was making up the story because of "rejection", claiming she had sent him a text message asking for sex.

But he later broke down and started crying, telling his interviewers "I did do it, I did it."

Graham Brown, representing the boy, told the court his comments referred to having consensual sex with the girl and were not an admission of rape.

Referring to the boy's earlier claims he had not even met up with the girl, Mr Brown told the court: "He was telling lies because he was scared.

"He was scared he was going to be in trouble, and the girl was scared she was going to be in trouble, too.

"He says he had sex and that it was consensual."

The case continues.

Mother of 'home alone' girl convicted of neglect

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

A MOTHER who left her 14-year-old daughter to live alone in the squalor of a rubbish-strewn house in Harlow has been found guilty of neglect.

The woman, who cannot be identified for legal reasons, must wait until November 25 to hear her fate after a judge at Chelmsford Crown Court adjourned sentencing pending reports.

During the case jury members were shown DVD footage of the filthy four-bedroom house which prosecutor Andrew Jackson said gave "a plain image" of conditions in the property.

He added: "It is a compelling case of wilful neglect of a child by her mother. She left her in conditions that were almost beyond comprehension."

The woman, aged 54, denied causing cruelty towards a person under the age of 16 between November 1, 2008 and July 25, 2009 by wilful neglect causing unnecessary suffering.

The court was told police discovered the conditions the girl was living in after going to the house following concerns about her safety and welfare.

Mr Jackson said: "It was in a poor state of repair from the outside. They knocked on the door without response and, after they lifted the letterbox, they could smell something pretty disgusting."

He said rubbish had accumulated behind the front door and along the hallway while a sitting room was covered in mess.

Of the kitchen he said: "The fridge didn't work, work surfaces were piled high with rubbish and food and the washing machine didn't work. A cooker was inaccessible."

On the landing, things had been piled up to the level of the light switch.

Giving evidence, the mother blamed the mess on her daughter and said: "I told her to tidy up because I knew I couldn't do many things because of problems with my knees.

"I couldn't stand for too long and I couldn't vacuum because of my back."

She said rubbish started to build up after her daughter kept leaving things on the floor, adding: "She just kept on doing it over the days. It built up because I studied, I worked, I did shopping and took the girl to school and back."

The girl said she had been living in the conditions for six months and had not opened the door to police because she knew her mother was in financial trouble and feared it was the bailiffs.

The mother, who had attended accountancy courses at the University of East London and Middlesex University, was located after enquiries were made by a homeless centre where she had stayed for two weeks.

It was said she had obtained grants and bursaries worth thousands of pounds between 2006-09, some by claiming she was homeless.

Judge Rodger Hayward-Smith urged the defence to obtain further psychiatric evidence after Jane Oldfield, representing the defendant, said: "There are traits of an abnormal personality. There may be personality disorder."

Releasing the defendant on bail until the sentencing hearing, the judge said: "She left the girl on occasions in a home that was in a dreadful state."

Vote of no confidence

SIR, As one of the local councillors who has openly expressed concerns over councillor Lee Dangerfield, I'm pleased with his decision to resign (Star, November 4)

However, the manner of his departure and his claims of being "stabbed in the back" does open up more questions.

The chief executive carried out an internal investigation and claimed everything was in order. So does this mean the Tory party don't accept his report and, if so, what are they planning to do?

Council leader Andrew Johnson gave full support to the Dangerfields when the rest of his party didn't. This clearly must indicate internal concerns over the ability of Mr Johnson as a leader.

What were the views of our MP, Robert Halfon? Was he one of the Tories stabbing Lee Dangerfield in the back? Does he support the leader of the council or his own party? I suspect he will simply duck the question.

Finally, if the Tory party has so little faith in Lee Dangerfield, why haven't they removed the whip from his position of being a county councillor? How can you resign claiming you don't have the support of your party but then remain as a county councillor?

This whole issue has left a stain over the reputation of all councillors, but more importantly it is a vote of no confidence in Andrew Johnson.

This issue hasn't gone away as how can we have any confidence in Lee Dangerfield remaining a county councillor when it appears even his own party have no confidence in him. My advice to him is to leave the political stage.

Councillor Tony Durcan
Rundells, Harlow

Threat to green space

SIR, Further to Elizabeth Leonard's letter opposing housing plans for Harlow (Star, November 4), I agree wholeheartedly with her view but would like to add my viewpoint against the proposals.

These big developers with plans for our land are greedy and determined to concrete over our precious, irreplaceable green spaces. They will change our town forever and create a grey urban sprawl.

The fact our infrastructure – schools, roads, doctors, hospitals etc – cannot cope with the burden is, in my mind, secondary to the sad fact that once built on, the beauty and nature our green spaces give us will be gone forever.

The quality of life in our town will undoubtedly deteriorate and as a result our house prices will fall.

The developers have people working full-time to make sure these thousands of houses get built. We need to make it our business to stop them!

We will be working with children, parents and staff and have planned workshops which will include writing about our first day at school, painting impressions of Peterswood, model making and researching the history throughout the decades since the school was first opened.

This is where we need the help of Star readers. We would really appreciate it if you could spare some time to come into school to share your special memories, loan us any photos that you may have, or perhaps offer to be interviewed by a small group of our children.

We would really like to welcome back past staff, parents and pupils so that together we can celebrate all that has been great and special about our school and thank all the people who have contributed to making it such a happy place to learn and grow.

Please get in touch either by telephone, by letter or by email if you can help. We so look forward to hearing from you.

Harlow's civic life. It is part of the council chairman's role as our civic leader to organise this function.

As well as chairmen from other councils, guests include people who serve the town as an acknowledgement of the work they do (much of it voluntary), local business people, service personnel and faith leaders. It is an excellent way for the chairman to thank these people as well as to market the council and the achievements of Harlow across Essex and beyond.

Last year's Labour chairman held the civic dinner, which most Conservative councillors were happy to support. This year she was persuaded by her fellow Labour councillors into joining their petty political boycott.

If they do not support the chairman, why are the council corridors filled with photographs of their past chairmen?

As chairman of the council for 2008/9, I spent months arranging the civic dinner, ensuring we got best value from every penny. It cost £4,710, including the excellent meal, wine purchased from local supermarkets, catering staff, waiters, chauffeurs' sandwiches and council staff who set up and cleared up, and fantastic entertainment from Josh Dubovie, who sang for Britain in this year's Song Contest. For 120 guests it cost £39 each. I doubt any local venue could match that quality under £40.

The chairman's annual budget is £15,300 for everything and has remained the same for many years. I underspent by about £4,000 for 2008/9 and it is now being reduced to take account of cuts.

I understand why some people are concerned about functions like this but, even in difficult times, Harlow must hold its head up. We are now a town that can stand alongside our neighbours on equal terms.

We have a lot to show, we have a strong future, we are no longer a town happy to wave the poverty and benefits flag. We now work with surrounding councils and get out to secure development, businesses and employment.

No longer can we retreat behind our borders with signs that declare us a Nuclear Free Zone. We have a lot to be proud of and it is the chairman's duty to show off what we have to offer.

Councillor Tony Hall
Civic Centre, Harlow

A small price to pay

SIR, In reply to last week's correspondence about the fireworks show in the Town Park, I would like to say that as one of thousands of people who attended this spectacular event I am pleased that this Harlow tradition is being maintained.

The obvious delight of so many children is a small price to pay for this festive occasion that brings the town's people together.

Let us remember one of the main reasons why this was first introduced back in the early 1980s. Small firework parties in back gardens meant a visit to the casualty department for some small children.

So I think that at less than 2p a week for each household, this is a small price to pay. It was a splendid occasion for all and parents know it is a safe environment for their children.

To all those who disapprove, go along next time and see what you are missing. And congratulations to the staff and workers of the council that made it possible.

Councillor Mike Danvers Tunneade, Harlow

SIR, The council fireworks on Sunday were amazing, I went to see them with my family and we had a wonderful time.

I read in the Star last week people complaining about how much money the council spends on the display. I think this is money well spent as even in these hard times everyone needs something nice every so often.

Thank you very much, Harlow Council. Please do the same again next year.

Becky Warwick (age 11)

Check your sheds

SIR, It is coming round to the time of year when we shut up our sheds for the winter.

Could I please ask Star readers to be very careful to check that no cats or other creatures are shut in before closing up for the last time.

It is also coming up to the time when bonfires are lit. If you have had a bonfire standing for more than a few days, can you check that no hedgehogs or other small creatures have made themselves a nest before you set light to it.

Garden setting for new town sculpture

HARLOW'S status as the world's first 'sculpture town' has been boosted by the installation of a striking new contemporary work in the Gibberd Garden.

The highly-polished stainless steel sculpture by young artist and former Harlow resident Alistair McClymont was unveiled at the Marsh Lane attraction last week.

Titled Bifurcation Inflation, the piece was commissioned by the Gibberd Garden Trust with money donated by former Harlow Council leader Martin Lawn to mark his 50th year in the town.

Mr Lawn, current chairman of the Harlow Health Centres Trust, personally selected the work from a shortlist of submissions from young artists.

"I wanted to give something back to a town that has given me so much during my time here," he said. "As a volunteer at the Gibberd Garden, I decided that an appropriate way of doing this would be to commission a new sculpture to add to the superb collection the town now boasts.

"If Pat Gibberd was still with us I'm sure she would have approved as she always went out of her way to encourage young artists and craftsmen. It's a stunning work and I hope it will bring great pleasure to everyone who sees it."

Open verdict on OAP hit by express train

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A PENSIONER was killed instantly when he was struck by an express train in a remote spot in Harlow.

George Turner (78) stood facing the oncoming Cambridge-bound train on tracks between Old Harlow and Sawbridge-wood stations on July 15 this year.

An inquest held in Chelmsford on Friday heard that the route to the tracks was hard to find and Mr Turner, of Elmbridge, Old Harlow, could not have simply strayed on to line.

But recording an open verdict, assistant deputy coroner Lorna Tagliavini said that although Mr Turner, who suffered from Alzheimer's, may have deliberately gone to the location, she could not be sure he had intended to commit suicide.

Mr Turner's wife, June, said in a statement that her husband had no intention of taking his own life. He had gone out for a walk as usual that morning and was due to go bowling in the afternoon.

Train driver Craig Garrett said in a statement read to the court that as he approached a bridge by a left hand bend he saw a man standing on the tracks with his hands clasped together.

British Transport Police liaison officer David Humphreys described the spot where Mr Turner died as quite dangerous. "At the bottom of Marsh Lane there's a footpath in undergrowth which leads to the bridge; it's very remote," he said.

Mr Humphreys said that someone would have to climb over a wall and down an embankment to reach the bottom of the bridge but there was nothing to prevent a person from stepping out on to the tracks.

He added that it was impossible to stray on to the tracks at that point.

The inquest was told there was no traces of alcohol or drugs in his system other than his prescribed medication for dementia and cognitive memory loss.

Foodbank seeks storage upgrade

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW charity that provides emergency help to people in times of crisis is looking for a new home.

Harlow Foodbank collects donations of tinned and dried food from the public and then distributes it to individuals and families in desperate need until the appropriate agencies are in a position to assist.

But it has expanded at such a rate since its launch last year that it has outgrown the warehousing space it uses to store the food. Currently the charity uses space donated for free at the Lock & Store facility in Edinburgh Way. It also has the use of a church hall.

Gary Knott, the charity's director of community services, said: "We are very grateful to the two organisations that have generously provided space for us, but increasingly we are finding that we need more space to cope with increased donations and in one place rather than two.

"This is an ideal opportunity for a Harlow business to get behind a local charity that provides food donated by local people to help other local people."

The charity is looking for a storage space of between 115-450 sq.ft, which is available to use for free or for a minimal rent.

Anyone who can help should call the foodbank on (01279) 724 515 or email harlowfoodbank@mrct.org.uk.

Make a present from the past

A CARE home in Harlow is asking for items from yesteryear to create a familiar home-from-home for its elderly residents.

The Partridge Care Centre has already filled one room with pieces sourced from the internet but is now looking for donations for other rooms.

Spokeswoman Debbie Bell said: "As most of the residents have dementia, this room has evoked memories of the past and has been really good for their sense of well being. Because of the success of this room, we wish to convert other rooms."

As well as old and unwanted home furnishings, the centre would be grateful for items to put in memory boxes, including old buttons, ration books and crockery. It is also looking for someone who can paint wall murals.

Anyone with items they think might be of interest should call Debbie on (01279) 452225.

Fashion show fundraiser

HIGH street style will be available at discounts of up to 70 per cent at a charity fashion show in Sawbridgeworth tonight (Thursday).

Brands including Monsoon, Top Shop, Wallis and River Island will be on sale at the Memorial Hall in The Forebury.

The event will raise funds for the Helen Rollason Cancer Charity, which has a centre at the Rivers Hospital in High Wych. Tickets cost £6, which includes a welcome drink, and guests are asked to arrive at 7.15pm for 7.45pm start. On Saturday a Christmas bazaar will be held at Matching Village Hall from 1-5pm to raise cash for the charity. Entry is free.

Shelter trip

YOUNGSTERS from the Harlow Jewish Community will be visiting the town's night shelter for the homeless to mark Mitzvah Day.

Mick Granger, who helps out at the shelter, told parents and children at HJC's cheder – or school – about what is provided for homeless people who stay at the shelter over the Christmas and New Year period.

Anne joins Cheggers to launch new disability rights campaign

PARALYMPIAN Anne Wafula Strike showed she has the Midas touch when she swapped a copy of her autobiography for a gold jacket worn by TV star Keith Chegwin.

The exchange took place to launch a campaign promoting the rights of disabled people.

Ms Strike, who lives in Willowfield, Harlow, is championing the UK's first nationwide charity swapathon – dubbed Stamp and Swap – next month.

"Everyone should join Stamp and Swap and support the rights of disabled people all over the world," she said. "I understand from personal experience, growing up with a disability in Kenya, how important it is to get everyone talking about and supporting issues about disability."

Individuals and organisations can get involved in Stamp and Swap by swapping experiences or skills online through LifeSwap or personal items at organised 'SwapIt' events.

The aim is to create a fun, interactive day to support the rights of disabled people on the International Day of Disabled People.

Ms Strike is inviting people to Stamp and Swap in aid of a host of disabled charities including ADD International, RADAR and the National Centre for Independent Living. ADD International is a UK charity that works with disabled people in Africa and Asia who are often denied things that others take for granted such as basic healthcare, respect and the chance to go to school and earn a living.

ADD-funded training gives them the knowledge and confidence they need to ask for the rights they are routinely denied.

The Stamp and Swap event takes place on Friday December 3. To get involved, all you have to do is to go to the Stamp and Swap website at www.stampandswap.org and donate £5 to register.

Their names will never be forgotten

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertssexnews.co.uk

A NEW memorial dedicated to members of the Armed Forces from Harlow who have given their lives in the service of their country since 1945 was formally unveiled at a ceremony on Sunday.

MP Robert Halfon joined the soldiers' families and representatives of the Royal British Legion, ex-service associations and Harlow Council for the service, which was held in the Town Park memorial garden.

The service was organised by the RBL and led by the Reverend Albert Watson, pictured below, chaplain of the Harlow branch.

The new memorial consists of two commemorative plinths bearing the names of fallen heroes Colin Carver, Andrew Saunders, Gary Love and Robert Foster.

Council leader Andrew Johnson said: "The service was very well attended by family and friends of those who lost their lives while serving in the Armed Forces since 1945.

"The town now has a war memorial which will be a permanent tribute to them. Our community will never forget them."

SERVICES will be held in Harlow to remember those who made the ultimate sacrifice while serving their country.

An armistice service will be held by the League of Gentlemen 95 at 11am this morning (Thursday) at the War Memorial at Harlow Common.

The group will be joined by the congregation from St Mary Magdalene Church in Potter Street for the service. They have also been asked to lay the standard of the Burma Star Association.

A bugle player from a military re-enactment group in Essex will play the Last Post before the group marches back to the church. Remembrance Sunday will be marked with the traditional commemorative service at the Nettleswell Memorial Garden, in School Lane.

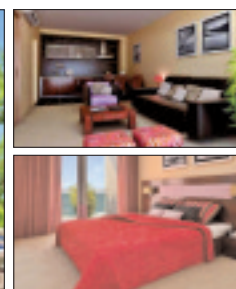

Harlow MP Rob Halfon, local councillors and other local dignitaries will attend the service, which starts at 10.45am.

EXTINCT animals could one day be brought back from the dead, according to scientists exploring ways to help save endangered species.

The boffins believe they could soon have the technology to clone long-dead animals from blood samples taken from threatened species, echoing scenes from Hollywood blockbuster Jurassic Park.

To test their theory the team has been collecting samples from endangered animals across the globe and freezing them in the Frozen Ark lab in Nottingham.

As the blood contains DNA, which can give important information about how each animal is built, it could one day help bring extinct species back to life through cloning.

Last year a team of scientists in Spain managed to clone a type of mountain goat, but the baby died soon after it was born.

And not everyone agrees that cloning is a good idea, with many people thinking it wrong to mess with nature and others highlighting the fact that the technology is very expensive and unreliable.

But Dr Ann Clarke from the Frozen Ark project said action was needed now to collect the samples or it could be too late for some species.

She told reporters: "There is a very real possibility that we might be able to one day bring back an extinct or a very endangered species."

Cast your vote for Launch Pad

LAUNCH Pad, the innovative competition giving budding entrepreneurs the chance to turn their business dreams into reality, has now reached the public voting stage – meaning YOU decide who makes it through to the final!

Launch Pad is the brainchild of local businessman Robert Ellice who, having grown up and worked in the area, wanted to provide a platform for local people to showcase their business ideas and have the opportunity to develop and turn them into reality.

The project was brought to life by Bryan Hunt, of property firm Clarke Hillyer, and supported by the Star.

Earlier this year potential entrepreneurs were encouraged to submit their ideas for consideration by a panel of local business experts.

Are you a budding entrepreneur?
It's time to shout about your ideas....

Following a phenomenal response, the judging panel has now whittled the original entrants down to a shortlist of 20 who will face a public vote that will help to determine the eventual winner.

"The response to Launch Pad has been fantastic," said Bryan. "People from various backgrounds and situations have come forward with some quite brilliant ideas for a new business in Harlow."

"Now we are inviting Star readers to vote for their favourite entries each week."

All you have to do to take part is log on to the Launch Pad website at www.launchpad-harlow.org and watch the contenders' video presentations before you cast your vote. It's as simple as that!

The idea with the most public votes each week will win a place in the grand final, where the expert panel will decide upon a worthy winner.

Details of this week's hopefuls and a brief description of their business ideas are featured below.

This week's video contenders

Helen Jones & Kelly Stock Vital Spark Life Coaching

We have developed an online game/learning resource for Key Stage 2&3 students (10-16 years). The game provides an alternative opportunity to learn about, explore and experience a wide range of issues which will affect their everyday lives, their health, safety and their social and economic wellbeing. Through the spiral programme of scaffolded challenges they will be able to identify, celebrate and manage the many real-life challenges they face whilst building on what has gone before. Children will learn how to recognise and assess risk, act under pressure and reflect on how these virtual experiences translate into their real lives. This programme will be sold to schools through a licence agreement.

Marion Giddings STEPS

My idea is to develop highly structured reading and spelling materials that can be used by non-specialist teachers. There are thousands who leave primary school with significant difficulties and who go through secondary school struggling with basic literacy. They go on to become young people, adults, workers and parents whose lives are blighted by being functionally illiterate. It takes time, and usually lots of money, to teach those with the greatest difficulty. This course is aimed at providing the non-specialist – a parent, sibling, grandparent or teaching support assistant – with material to help people learn to acquire those skills. Initially the course will consist of a student resource file and teaching notes, but I aim to supplement it with a computer-based games disc to support spelling. My long-term aim is to develop a website where publishers will be able to advertise their products and materials and where the public can get support.

Debby Boulter Indoor Urban Sports Facility

My project idea is to provide a non-profit indoor facility to the large community of young and older people who fall into the urban sports category. Harlow has an extremely large community of BMX riders, skateboarders, inline skaters and scooter riders but they are not the only ones who use the outdoor skate park in the Town Park. It's also frequented by people from outside the town who travel here to use this service. Harlow's skate park is popular but it has limited facilities, no supervision and no shelter. I have visited a number of indoor facilities around the country and found these projects have become an extremely valued service to their communities as they are able to offer a safe, supervised environment that allows numerous young people to participate in something that they are passionate about while keeping them off the streets and out of trouble.

Geoff Rance Dart & Trophy Shop

With the dart season fast approaching and many interested budding players, it would, in my opinion, be a good idea to have a dart shop here within Harlow. I am a jack of all trades and master of none. However, when given the chance I pick things up very quickly. This idea would not only benefit me but many hundreds of budding dart players, old and new. It will also give a few people the opportunity to fulfil a customer relationship opportunity and set themselves into a career.

Jail reprieve for man who threatened sister-in-law

A MAN who posted online threats against his sister-in-law on a social networking website following his brother's suicide has been spared jail.

Warehouseman Krystof Zalewski (26), of Longfield, Harlow, who admitted harassment by putting his victim in fear of violence between October 1 and November 10 last year, had earlier been warned he faced a jail sentence. But at Chelmsford Crown Court on Friday he was given a five-month suspended sentence and ordered to complete 150 hours of unpaid work.

The court was told messages he posted on a Polish social networking site were abusive and contained a threat of violence. He had also telephoned his sister-in-law and told her: "Don't show yourself or you will die."

Cyrus Schroff, prosecuting, told the court: "It began after the death of her husband who tragically committed suicide. Zalewski made comments such as 'I don't wish to see you; if I do I would do what I need to do'."

"His behaviour culminated in following her into a shop in Harlow and standing two metres from her after which she reported him to police."

Judge Anthony Goldstaub, who also imposed a restraining order on Zalewski, told him: "This was a vicious and unpleasant piece of intimidation and harassment."

Dad sees Red over refusal of a refund

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Thomas Breen paid almost £300 to a driving tutor from Red Driving School for a course of 12 lessons for his 17-year-old daughter Natasha.

But after completing half of the lessons the instructor stopped answering telephone calls and now cannot be traced.

Although the driving school terminated the instructor's contract, it has refused to refund Mr Breen or provide the lessons with another instructor.

"We went to Red because we thought it was reputable name," said Mr Breen, of Milwards, Harlow. "We thought we would be safe with a big name but after we contacted them they told us their instructors were self-employed and any dispute over payment was between us and him."

"Instead of protecting its customers, Red has effectively just washed its hands of it all."

Mr Breen contacted the police but was told they could not investigate the case as the instructor had provided some of the lessons and it was now a civil matter.

"I realise I have lost out here," he said. "It is

RED LOSS:

Thomas Breen who paid in advance for driving lessons for his daughter but who lost half the money when the instructor disappeared not a huge amount of money but I just want to warn other people of the dangers of paying upfront.

"You should just pay as you go because you have very little recourse with them if your instructor disappears with your money."

A spokeswoman for Red said the company had terminated its franchise with the driving instructor and will be reporting him to the Driving Standards Agency.

"We would like to apologise for the inconvenience caused to Miss Breen," she said. "We have offered her our support in her efforts to recover the money from the instructor through the courts, if necessary."

She added: "While we do not condone the actions of this driving instructor and sympathise with the situation Miss Breen is in, we do ensure all pupils are made aware of the nature of the payment arrangement at the start of their lessons."

"All pupils are provided with an appointment and progress card which outlines our terms and conditions."

County acts to stock up on road salt

THERE will be no shortage of salt to grit icy roads in Essex this winter, according to the county's highways authority.

Essex County Council will be receiving a full quota of salt from its suppliers despite national shortages during prolonged cold snaps over the past two years.

Last month the Essex Weather Centre predicted another chilly winter with widespread and frequent snow showers again causing chaos on the county's road and rail networks.

A spokeswoman for the authority said: "The council will be receiving the full amount of road-gritting salt that it has ordered from its suppliers for this winter."

"Essex was well prepared for the harsh winters of the last two years, maintaining sufficient supplies to continue treating all priority routes despite a national shortage of salt and we are equally prepared to deal with extreme conditions again this winter if required."

Support the Royal British Legion Poppy Appeal

THE Royal British Legion is the UK's leading charity providing financial, social and emotional support to millions who have served or are currently serving in the Armed Forces and their dependants.

Today, British men and women continue to serve their country in Afghanistan, Iraq, the Falklands, the Gulf, Rwanda, Bosnia, Kosovo and Northern Ireland. They need to know the Royal British Legion will be there to help them when they need it most.

The Royal British Legion helps people of all ages and backgrounds. To be eligible for help, you must have served in the forces for at least seven days or be the dependant of someone who has served. It really is that simple.

Thanks to its supporters, the Royal British Legion is able to provide a wide range of essential services including:

Poppy Funds: It can provide funds in a temporary crisis such as homelessness or assist with loans for property repairs and starting up a small business.

Poppy Advice: It can offer advice on war pensions, compensation claims and also advice for those leaving the Armed Forces.

Poppy Homes: A major part of the RBL's welfare work is to provide short and long-term care for ex-service people and their dependants in its Poppy Homes around the country.

We are indebted to the advertisers on this page. 20 per cent of revenue from these advertisements has been donated to the Poppy Appeal.

LEST WE FORGET: Last year's Service of Remembrance at Harlow's War Memorial Remembering all those killed and injured serving their country in conflicts past and present. May they not be forgotten.

POPPY APPEAL 2010

Halfon in the Hotseat

Starting this week, Harlow MP Robert Halfon answers questions on the issues - both local and national - that matter to Star readers. We will select the best questions submitted by you and put them to Mr Halfon, who will then give his opinion in this fortnightly column. "I want to get as much feedback from Harlow residents as possible and the Star is the ideal forum in which to discuss readers' questions on key issues," said Mr Halfon.

STEVE TAPPENDEN: Do you know how far along the sale of the GlaxoSmithKline North site complex is to the Health Protection section of the Department of Health? Do you know when the final decision will be made if the Government will release the funds for the move from Porton Down to Harlow or not?

ROBERT HALFON: Steve, this is a really important question so thank you for asking it.

Despite the difficult economic situation, it is encouraging that the health budget will increase by £2bn next year because of the Government's commitment to the NHS. The Government is committed to giving the work of the HPA a viable future.

As you know, unemployment in Harlow is very high at the moment - at over five per cent it is the highest in West Essex. We desperately need to bring jobs to our town.

If the HPA came to Harlow it would not just create around 1,000 jobs but would probably have the potential to add hundreds of extra jobs because all the surrounding shops and businesses would benefit if the Glaxo site is utilised properly.

The problem we face is that the Unite union came out against the HPA coming to Harlow, and inevitably those at the existing site in Porton Down want it to remain there.

At the end of the day the decision will be made on grounds of what is best value for money for the taxpayer, and how best to improve biomedical research in the UK. The final decision will be made after the Department of Health has considered the business case. We're not yet sure of the exact date. It could be at the end of the year or early in 2011.

Since I have become MP I have met with the Health Minister Anne Milton to make the case and also made a speech in Parliament about this. I have written a number of letters to the Department of Health inviting ministers to visit Harlow.

Just to reassure you and other residents, if the HPA did come to Harlow it does not mean we would have biological warfare here. In fact, many of their public health laboratory tests are carried out in hospitals up and down the country every day.

To have the HPA here would confirm Harlow's status as a place of scientific excellence and achievement at the heart of biomedical research in the London-Cambridge corridor, with excellent road and rail links.

It would also provide much-needed help to our economy, bringing jobs back to Harlow.

To submit a question to Mr Halfon, email star@hertsessexnews.co.uk or write to Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, Essex CM20 1JW. All questions must be accompanied by the name and postal address of the author. Questions submitted anonymously will not be considered.

THEY'RE OFF: Scores of Santas set off at the start of last year's event in Harlow Town Park

JUST three weeks after the launch and entries are already flooding in for this year's St Clare Hospice Santa Run.

The Christmas fundraiser, which once again is being supported by the Star, will take place in Harlow Town Park on Sunday, December 12.

It is hoped that more than 300 people will run, jog or walk the 4km route which starts at the Showground by Pets' Corner and continues around the outer edge of the park.

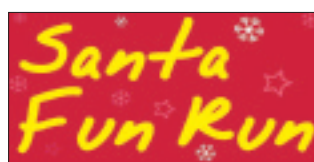

"We've already been practicing our running stretches and our 'ho, ho, hos' in preparation for the run," said Tracy Stratford, events fundraiser for St Clare.

"Tomorrow (Friday) it will be only a month to go until the event and we'd love to see more people signing up. It really is a great fun event for everyone.

"Last year we had our 'elite' Santas who sprinted round the course in less than 15 minutes, we had families jogging or walking round together and we even had Santas taking their dogs for a walk round the park."

Every child who signs up will receive their own Santa hat while every registered adult will be given their very own suit complete with belt and beard.

This year the hospice will also be holding a Santa Run in Bishop's Stortford and it is hoped that both events will raise £15,000 towards the £2.3m the hospice needs to continue providing care free of charge to patients and their families.

Registration costs £15 for adults (16 and over) and £5 for children. Children under 15 years old must sign up with an adult.

All you have to do to register to take part in the Santa Run is visit the hospice website at www.stclarehospice.org.uk and click on the homepage link or call (01279) 773750.

Alternatively, you can complete the form above and send it to FREEPOST RRLY-EZLX-YJLK, St Clare Hospice, Stone Barton, Hastingwood Road, Hastingwood, Harlow CM17 9JX to receive a registration form.

Cars targeted as vandals strike twice in same road

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after two vehicles were damaged while parked in the same street.

Vandals scratched the nearside rear door of a black Toyota Yaris while it was parked overnight in Allnatts Road, Epping, on Thursday, October 14.

The following day a black Audi Estate parked in the same street sustained £600 worth of damage after having both offside doors scratched.

Neighbourhood police officer Gary Harrington said: "I am appealing to anyone who lives locally who may know who is doing this to contact me.

"If you notice anyone acting suspiciously around vehicles please contact us as soon as possible. We would rather attend and find everything is in order than have another person's vehicle damaged in this way."

Anyone with information about either incident should contact PC Harrington at Epping police station on 0300 333 4444.

Woman rescued from house fire

FIREFIGHTERS rescued a woman from a house fire in Long Ley, Harlow, on Saturday night.

Wearing breathing apparatus, they led the woman, who was suffering from smoke inhalation, to safety.

After extinguishing the blaze they used a specialist fan to clear the house of smoke.

An investigation into the cause of the fire is now under way.

Christmas appeal for pet shop toys

A HARLOW pet store will be collecting Christmas gifts for abandoned animals this month with the launch of its annual Santa Paws campaign.

From next Friday (November 19), staff at Pets At Home in Edinburgh Way will be encouraging customers to buy an extra gift for animals which will be spending the Christmas period at local re-homing centres.

Store manager James Byrne said: "Pet owners love to treat their own pets at Christmas time but it's important to remember that not all pets will be so fortunate this December.

"Hopefully our customers will be very generous so that Harlow's abandoned animals will get a treat this Christmas."

The campaign is being run through the store's charity Support Adoption For Pets, which has raised over £1m nationally for animal welfare charities over the past 12 months.

Free parking and late-night opening to draw Christmas shoppers into town

THE tree is up, the fireworks are primed and the reindeers' horns have been polished. This year's Christmas lights switch-on in Harlow town centre promises to be another cracking day of festive family fun.

The event begins at noon on Sunday, November 21 with surreal sideshows, face-painting and Hip Hop Pop dancers entertaining shoppers.

Santa and his reindeer will be in The Water Gardens from midday preparing to lead the popular glo-stick parade from the shopping complex at 4.30pm.

Once everyone has reached Market Square, Playhouse pantomime stars

Aaron Sidwell, Chris Stanton and Holly Matthews will provide some special entertainment in the build-up to the 5pm switch-on and fireworks display.

On top of the big event itself, more than 50 town centre shops will once again stay open late for six consecutive Thursdays, beginning on November 18. Motorists will be able to park their cars for free from 5pm-9pm.

Town centre development manager Richard Denmery said: "The late-night Thursday free parking will bring shoppers into the town centre in the weeks leading up to Christmas."

Teacher thrilled to receive MBE from the Queen

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A TEACHER at a Harlow school described the moment she received the MBE from the Queen as the "culmination of a lifetime's ambition".

Marie Erwood, assistant head at Stewards School, was presented with the award during a ceremony at Buckingham Palace last Wednesday.

"It was the most utterly amazing day of my life," said Marie, who teaches history.

"The pageantry of the occasion was just sensational. The Queen asked me what I taught and said the teaching of history is very important."

Waiting alongside Marie to collect their awards were Coronation Street actresses Barbara Knox and Eileen Derbyshire, who also received MBEs.

Marie, who lives in Cheshunt, travelled to the Palace with husband Mark and parents Jan and George, both 81. After the ceremony the group headed to the swanky Dorchester Hotel in Mayfair for afternoon tea.

"It was such a wonderful day," she added. "I'm so grateful to those who nominated me. For someone who has strong feelings about the Queen, it was the culmination of a lifetime's ambition."

Marie has taught in the town's secondary schools for 35 years and at Stewards for the past 20 years.

Her award was announced in the Queen's Birthday Honours in June. She was nominated for the honour by the school's headteacher Rhonda Murthar for her services to education.

The school's recent 'outstanding' Ofsted ratings for pupil care and guidance were due in large part to Marie's contribution.

Mrs Murthar told the Star: "I can think of no-one more deserving of this exceptional honour."

Depressed company manager hanged himself after being made redundant

THE manager of an engineering company who became depressed after he was made redundant hanged himself at his Harlow home, an inquest heard.

Wayne Llewellyn (51), of Bushey Croft, lost his job in October 2009 and was found dead three months later.

His family had described him as being "down" after the redundancy the inquest held at Chelmsford on Monday was told.

When his ex-wife went to his home on January 4 after becoming concerned about him she found a note from him on the front door.

A neighbour entered the property and found him hanging from the loft hatch.

Police confirmed there were no suspicious circumstances.

Essex coroner Caroline Beasley-

Murray heard that the level of a prescribed anti-depressant drug found in his blood was higher than the recommended dose.

Mr Llewellyn died from asphyxia caused by being suspended by a ligature.

The coroner said she was satisfied Mr Llewellyn had intended to take his own life and recorded a verdict of suicide.

Sharing the stage with a musical mutant plant

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

BUDDING performers are being invited to show off their stage skills at open auditions for a forthcoming production of the hit musical Little Shop Of Horrors.

The show will be creeping onto The Playhouse stage next February but producers Rare need young dancers, singers and actors aged eight-21 to complete the cast.

The search for stars starts on Sunday, when the company's Youth Theatre will be holding auditions at the theatre from 9.30am-12.30pm.

Little Shop Of Horrors follows down-and-out floral assistant Seymour, who becomes an overnight sensation when he discovers an exotic plant with a mysterious craving for fresh blood.

Naming it Audrey II, Seymour's unusual discovery grows into an ill-tempered, foul-mouthed, rhythmic and blues-singing carnivore who offers him fame and fortune in exchange for feeding its growing appetite, finally revealing itself to be an alien creature poised for global domination.

A Rare spokesman said: "We are looking for performers of all ages and all levels to take part in this musical experience."

"During the rehearsal process our professional staff will take the cast through all they need to know to put the play on stage."

Those making it through the auditions will rehearse at the Playhouse for 10 weeks before the show opens for a three-night run on February 3.

"Nothing can compare to the fun and excitement of putting on a show in a real theatre in front of a real audience, and the confidence gained by all the members of the cast stay with them long after the final curtain call has been taken," he added.

A show fee is payable to Rare Productions for each successful applicant. For more information, call 0844 800 8296 or email info@rareproductions.co.uk.

Choir return to cathedral for 400th anniversary performance of Vespers

AN acclaimed local choir is set to raise the roof at historic Ely Cathedral on Saturday evening with a stirring performance of Monteverdi's Vespers Of 1610.

Harlow Chorus last performed the Italian composer's masterpiece in 1992 at the same venue and this weekend's rendition marks the 400th anniversary of its creation.

Conducted by musical director Alexander Chaplin, the choir will be accompanied by baroque ensemble Charivari Agréable, who specialise in the use of period instruments to reproduce the authentic sound of the time.

Chorus member Pat Hodgson said: "This year celebrates the 400th anniversary of the writing of this stunning piece and what could be better than being in the awe-inspiring cathedral setting surrounded by the wonderful sound that Claudio Monteverdi created all those years ago."

Harlow Chorus has laid on an audience coach which will pick-up from Church Langley, Old Harlow, Sawbridgeworth and Bishop's Stortford. The cost is £11 return.

To book a place on the coach or to reserve tickets for the performance, which starts at 7.30pm, call (01277) 362440 or send an email to tickets@harlowchorus.org.uk.

Earth attacked by new wave of alien invaders

>>>still showing

>>>LET ME IN Twelve-year-old Owen (Kodi Smit-McPhee) harbours fantasies of stabbing the school bullies who make his life hell and spies on the neighbours with a telescope. Late one night he watches with interest as a girl (Chloe Moretz) and her father (Richard Jenkins) move into the apartment next door, unaware that she is a vampire. When the next school beating draws blood, Abby tells Owen to hit back hard and pledges her support to end the cycle of verbal and physical intimidation.

>>>JACKASS 3D Johnny Knoxville and his daredevil pals attempt another bewildering array of pratfalls that defy all common sense.

>>>SAW 3D The legacy of devious serial killer Jigsaw (Tobin Bell) lives on and many of the survivors of his diabolical traps continue to be haunted by their ordeals. One of them, Bobby Dagen (Sean Patrick Flanery), has turned potential tragedy into victory with a best-selling memoir. He shares his message of hope on a book tour but one of Jigsaw's acolytes is watching Bobby, ready to test his resolve with a series of fiendish traps.

>>>PARANORMAL ACTIVITY 2 Kristi (Sprague Grayden) and her husband Daniel (Brian Boland) welcome baby Hunter into their home, which they share with Daniel's teenage daughter Ali (Molly Ephraim) from his first marriage. Kristi senses a dark force in the family home and while Daniel scoffs at his wife's ghost stories, Ali is excited about the prospect of a visitation.

>>>LEGEND OF THE GUARDIANS Young barn owls Soren (Jim Sturgess) and Kludd (Ryan Kwanten) are captured by sentry owls under the control of the villainous Metalbeak (Joel Edgerton) and his mate Nyra (Helen Mirren), who are putting together an army to overthrow the legendary guardians.

>>>ALPHA AND OMEGA Kate (Hayden Panettiere) is an alpha wolf who must marry another alpha to honour her father and pack leader Winston (Danny Glover). In secret, he has promised Kate to Garth (Chris Carmack), the son of Eastern pack leader Tony (Hopper) in the hope that the marriage will unite the two tribes. Kate's best friend Humphrey (Justin Long) secretly yearns for her but knows he can never declare his true feelings. When Kate and Humphrey are relocated to Sawtooth National Forest in an effort to establish a new wolf population, the friends embark on an epic road trip home.

>>>DESPICABLE ME (3D & 2D) Criminal mastermind Gru seethes with envy after new villain on the block, Vector, steals one of the ancient pyramids and replaces the monument with an inflatable. With his reputation on the line, Gru plots to steal the moon using a shrink ray gun from Vector's laboratory.

>>>concert special

>>>LES MISERABLES 25TH ANNIVERSARY CONCERT Film of last month's celebratory concert at the O2 when all three productions and many of the show's original cast came together to celebrate the 25th anniversary of one of the world's most popular musicals.

SKYLINE certificate 15 1h32m

CLOSE the blinds and stay very quiet if you want to survive in Skyline, a fast-paced sci-fi thriller from the directors of AVPR: Aliens Vs. Predator Requiem.

With a background in digital effects and their own company Hydraulx in Santa Monica, California, siblings

Colin and Greg Strause have taken complete control of their second feature which witnesses an alien invasion and the possible extermination of mankind through the eyes of survivors of the initial onslaught.

Jarrold (Eric Balfour) and his girlfriend Elaine (Scottie Thompson) travel to Los Angeles so he can celebrate the birthday of best friend Terry (Donald Faison), who is a huge success on the West Coast and lives in a plush penthouse suite with his girlfriend Candice (Brittany Daniel).

At the end of a raucous party both couples crash out for the night, along with Terry's pal Ray (Neil Hopkins) and assistant Denise (Crystal Reed).

In the early hours of the morning pulses of bright blue light fall out of the sky and draw people to them like moths to a flame. As Terry and his friends look out of the penthouse windows, they are stunned to see zombie-like residents being sucked up into the sky into the bowels of alien ships that have blotted out the sun. Glad to be alive, the revellers try to make sense of their horrific predicament but the end of the world has begun and the mass harvesting of locals is merely the first wave of locals.

The worst is yet to come and if Jarrod, Elaine and their friends are going to evade capture and a grisly fate, they will have to make stark choices.

Financing the project with their own money so they would not have to make any compromises, the Strause brothers have overseen every element of Skyline apart from the screenplay by first-time writers Joshua Cordes and Liam O'Donnell, who plunge the audience into the midst of the mayhem.

Alec Gillis and Tom Woodruff Jr, who created the creature effects for Aliens Vs. Predator Requiem, work their magic here too in a film which is being touted as a mash-up of Cloverfield, Independence Day and War Of The Worlds.

Road trip comedy fails to deliver necessary laughs

DUE DATE certificate 15 1h56m

EXPECTANT father Peter Highman (Robert Downey Jr) is a workaholic who keeps in touch with his pregnant wife Sarah (Michelle Monaghan) via his mobile phone. With her waters expected to break in only a few days, Peter prepares to fly home to make sure he is at her side for the birth. But a mix-up with fellow passenger Ethan Tremblay (Zach Galifianakis), an aspiring actor who carries his dog in his hand luggage, leads to both men being thrown off the flight.

Missing both his passport and his wallet, Peter reluctantly accepts a lift from Ethan, who is travelling to Hollywood to seek fame and fortune.

The aspiring actor quickly grates on Peter, leading to interludes with a drug dealer (Juliette Lewis) and a Western Union agent (Danny McBride) who turns out to be a wounded soldier from the conflict in the Middle East.

Due Date delivers 95 minutes of missed opportunities, including the pointless introduction of Peter's good friend Darryl (Jamie Foxx) so the two men can procure a new car.

There's no on-screen chemistry between the leads, a car chase across the Mexican border is preposterous and, a gross-out scene in the car late at night strains credibility.

Monaghan is stuck at the end of a phone for almost the entire film as Downey Jr and Galifianakis try to unearth just one decent laugh.

End of the road?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).
Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.
What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:
B & T Motor Salvage
We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Skipper blasts woeful display

OUR exclusive column with Hawks skipper Leo Roget reveals his heartache at Tuesday's humiliating 4-0 defeat against Brentwood.

I'm writing this on Tuesday night after the loss to Brentwood so emotions are still quite high.

One thing I can handle as a player is players making mistakes, believe me I've made thousands over the years on the football pitch. One thing I can not handle as a player is players taking the absolute p*ss out of their team-mates, the fans, the staff and the Football Club as a whole.

On Saturday [the 3-4 defeat to Cheshunt], players made individual mistakes which cost us dearly but they were honest mistakes and quite out of character of the players concerned.

As a team I genuinely thought although we were not playing well, we gave all we had to try and gain a positive result to the very last whistle, and realistically with the chances we created towards the end of the game, we probably should have come away with a draw. This is acceptable and can be written off as a bad day at the office!

However, Tuesday night against Brentwood it was not honest mistakes that cost us. In my opinion it was a lack of effort, heart, and commitment.

If you don't try and you have no desire – never mind football – you won't succeed in anything you do.

The difference between Saturday and Tuesday night is simple. Saturday was disappointing, Tuesday night was a total embarrassment, and everyone involved should feel ashamed that they were apart of it.

Brentwood came to our ground and they pulled our trousers down and the worst thing about it is, we let them!

This being said I remember a few years back Manchester United being beat 5-0 by Newcastle and then the next game being hit for six by Southampton and they went on to win the league that season.

Now I'm not saying we are Man United or Becks is playing on the right wing for us, but on the flip side we are not playing against Chelsea either and if we have the right characters in the team, we have more than enough ability to bounce back and have a good go at getting promoted this season.

I personally on behalf of the players want to apologise to all that witnessed that performance on Tuesday night. Especially to the fans who paid out good money to come and watch on a cold night.

Hope to see you on Saturday. If you make the trip you will be rewarded with at least a whole-hearted performance and in turn a positive result.

Harlow quintet shine at All-England Champs

FIVE Harlow athletes competed at the All-England Cross Country Championships. Mansfield in Nottinghamshire was the destination for the Harlow contingent who completed the 2km course.

The undulating, muddy course featuring a large woodland section, saw Alicia McArdell (Mark Hall School) compete in the Under-13 girls section.

Running

She recorded an excellent 23rd place in 8 minutes, 10 seconds, a time that put her in the top 60 out of the 300 runners in this category.

Her Mark Hall School-mate Jodie Ratcliff also ran well to clock 8 mins 35 secs.

Sky Mulvey, also Mark Hall, had been feeling unwell and finished in 9:08, placing the team 43rd overall.

In the U-15 girls over the same distance, Amelia Barrett (Burnt Mill School) had also felt ill but but battled gamely to record 8:00. This helped her team to 43rd out of 102 teams.

Isobel Moss (Passmores School) ran a fine 8:15 to finish 55th in the race.

No goals in October, then award-winning keeper concedes FOUR

Harlow Tn 3, Cheshunt 4

Ryman League, division one north

IT wasn't the Manager of the Month curse but the jinx of the Safe Hands Award that bit Harlow Town on the bum at Barrows Farm, writes ALAN SCOTT.

Keeper Rhys Madden won the Ryman division one north award after not conceding a goal in the whole of October in the league.

However, it would be wrong to blame him for Saturday's disappointing defeat.

A turning point arguably came when Harlow led 2-1 and looked comfortable, but Cheshunt suddenly equalised on 35 minutes from the most bizarre own goal you are ever likely to see.

Hawks midfielder Jon Stevenson played a back pass from the halfway line which looped up and into his own net! Harlow were stung and Cheshunt took advantage by adding a third just three minutes later – and the hosts were playing catch up after that.

The Ambers had initially taken the lead on 11 minutes. Chris Meikle – who Harlow have been trying to sign – was the architect of this as he easily beat Harlow right-back Donny Barnard, who misjudged a long ball.

The pacy frontman slipped it through to strike partner Darryl Cox and he finished superbly into the bottom right corner.

But Harlow were level SIXTY seconds later. Dave Cowley's pinpoint cross from the left touchline found Steve Ferguson who headed in at the far post.

Anthony McDonald hit the right post on 21 minutes as the Ambers went close to a second.

But Harlow responded by taking the lead on 26 minutes when Che Stadhart teed up Leon Hunter who chipped the ball neatly into the top left corner.

Stevenson's freak goal made it 2-2 and Cox was booked for a rather unsporting reaction to this equaliser. This would come back to haunt the striker.

Cheshunt went 3-2 up when the excellent Meikle easily outpaced Laurie Stewart and clipped a 12-yard shot low into the right corner on 38 minutes.

As the teams and officials walked off, Hawks player-coach Christian Wheeler lambasted the ref. This ended with a caution for Wheeler – one of six for Harlow altogether.

Hawks were stung just two minutes after the break as another costly mistake by Barnard allowed Cheshunt to make it 4-2. Cox showed excellent composure to beat Madden, having robbed the lethargic full-back.

Harlow should have levelled on 56 minutes but Stadhart somehow missed from close range.

The hosts made it 3-4 on 71 minutes when Stadhart set up Cowley who hit a lovely first-time shot from 14 yards over the keeper and into the top left.

Cox's reckless foul on Stewart on 79 minutes earned him a second caution and a subsequent red card.

But the 10 men went close again minutes later when skipper David Hicks curled in a free-kick which clipped the bar.

Stadhart wasted a guilt-edged chance to equalise on 85 minutes, while Sacha Opinel headed against the bar minutes later.

The Hawks had several late chances but could not salvage a point.

Coach Danny Chapman said: "It was a bit of a shock for us. We were sloppy at times."

This was Harlow's first league defeat since they lost to Needham Market on September 18.

Forget fireworks!

>>Cont'd from back was 2-0. Barnett's right-wing cross should have been cleared by Laurie Stewart but he was robbed by Green and he slotted in from a similar position to his first goal.

Cowley's 20-yard speculative effort was superbly tipped over by Brentwood keeper Andy Hall minutes later.

An impromptu half-time fireworks display from the Hawks fans was the most entertaining aspect.

However, Warren might have needed a rocket to give to his side at half-time.

The visitors grabbed a third on 49 minutes. Barnett fed Butterworth and, as the Hawks defence once again parted like the Red Sea, he rifled home.

A reckless foul by Hawks left-back Sacha Opinel on Green after 78 minutes reduced Harlow to 10 men. He will serve a three-match ban for violent conduct.

Two minutes into stoppage time Harlow's misery was completed when Leo Roget handled in the box and Green thumped home the spot-kick for his hat-trick.

HARLOW TN: Madden 5, Barnard 4 (Bradbury 7), Opinel 4, Roget 5, Stewart 4, Hunter 4, Ferguson 3, Kilapi 4, Richards 4, COWLEY 6 (Brown 64), Stevens 3 (Modeste-Humphrey 45).

Yellow cards: Hunter (foul). Red cards: Opinel 78 (violent conduct). Att: 186.

Inexperienced Rams beaten in National Cup

THE Rams took the opportunity of a break in league action to field several young players in Saturday's National Intermediate Cup second round defeat against Harpenden.

The Hertfordshire side, who are third in division two north east (the same level as Harlow) also used the opportunity to field a weakened side.

Playing with the slope in their favour, Harlow started strongly and scored their opening try when a committed drive took them over the line, allowing skipper Scott Romaine to touch down near the corner.

Michael Dobson slotted the conversion from out wide for a 7-0 lead.

The Harlow pack continued to dominate before the visitors reduced the deficit with a penalty.

A bright attack saw Harpenden score their first try as a well-placed chip kick saw a player nip through for a try

Harlow 15, Harpenden 30

National Intermediate Cup, second round converted by Smith for 7-10.

A Harlow penalty from Dobson levelled the score before a well organised backs' try ended with Francis scoring to put the Herts side back in front. Smith's conversion made it 10-17 at the break.

In the second half, Harpenden scored their third try when Kearns cut through the Harlow defence for an unconverted try.

The visitors were reduced to 14 when Kearns was sin binned for continually killing the ball.

During this period, the Rams drove forward and Romaine made his way over the line for his second try of the match. Dobson missed the conversion but the lead was down to seven points.

Back to 15 and Harpenden stepped up the pressure in the closing 15 minutes, adding a penalty and an unconverted try through Smith to put the game beyond Harlow.

HARLOW: Lane (Cunningham 50), Lewis (Prindiville 50), Johnson, Palmer, Trearmer, Romaine, Drake, Eynon, Woodington (Gregory 65), Dobson, Webb, L. Bowering, Verner, Bates, Alderman.

● UPPER CLAPTON RFC maintained their excellent form in Essex League division two with a 30-5 home win over Ongar.

Harry Cook was among the try scorers as Clapton led 10-0 at half-time.

Stuart Haugh scored early in the second half.

Cook grabbed two more tries to complete his hat-trick, while Jed Dilloway collected a pass in his own half before racing through for the final try.

Clapton are second in the table.

Narrow defeat in Woodford final for LTC youngster

Lawn tennis

BEN Stevenson enjoyed the most success of three Harlow Lawn Tennis Club players who competed in the Woodford Wells Junior Open.

The event saw Stevenson reach the final of the U-16 boys singles.

Stevenson faced Tom Styles (New Hall Tennis Squad) in a match which produced some high-quality tennis.

The Harlow player lost the first set in a tense tie-break before levelling the match at one-set all.

But Styles raised his game at the right moment in the decider to run out a 7-6, 4-6, 6-4 winner.

This followed a tense all-Harlow semi-final when Ben Ruffles pushed his rival to the limit and led by a set and was a break up in the second, before Stevenson took control to win 6-7, 6-3, 6-1 to reach the final.

The Harlow pair then teamed up together and reached the final of the boys doubles contest, where they were defeated 7-6, 6-3 by Louis Watts (David Lloyd Gidea Park) and Robert Collins (Great Baddow LTC).

The competition also saw Harlow's Alex Dodd comfortably reach the quarter-final of the U-12 boys event, before narrowly losing to the highly-rated Tommy Smalley 7-6, 6-3.

The event attracted the expected strong entry from Essex and surrounding counties.

Will Calvert, director of tennis at the Latton Bush-based club, said: "I'd like to complement the boys on another fine performance - they reaped the rewards of their hard work in practice."

Meanwhile, the Harlow LTC veterans finals produced two epic matches.

In the ladies over-40 final, Pat Kendall looked like she was cruising to an easy victory when she won the first set 6-1.

However, her opponent, Karen Butler, fought back to win the second set 6-3.

There followed an exciting tie-break decider, during which both players held match points before Kendall won 13-11.

The men's over-55 singles final was equally tense.

Peter Gregory won the first set 6-2, but his opponent Fred Lloyd then went on the attack, winning the second set 6-0.

However, Gregory recovered for the deciding tie breaker which he won 11-9.

In the men's over-45 singles, Bob Barnett beat Fred Lloyd 6-3, 6-4.

Fred Lloyd and Peter Gregory defeated Bob Barnett and Paul Pattison 6-4, 7-6 in the men's over-45 doubles.

Butler: 'New captain can clean up'

By DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertsessexnews.co.uk

FORMER Harlow Cricket Club skipper James Butler has backed new captain Luke Heskett to lead the Marigolds side to promotion in 2011.

Harlow just missed out on going up from the Shepherd Neame Essex League division two this summer.

Last week, the Star exclusively revealed that Harlow had lost captain and key all-rounder Jason McNally, wicket-keeper Butler (who was skipper from 2007-2009) and influential all-rounder Ahmed Khawaja.

Harlow would seem to have lost too much talent to challenge for promotion.

However, Butler (34), believes the team can thrive under Heskett's guidance. He said: "I think Luke can lead them to promotion. He is a cerebral cricketer and will run a tight ship and will probably bring in two players."

"He has a good cricket brain and will not over-bowl or under-bowl himself. I think he will do well and wish him all the best. There is a lot of talent at the club."

IN CHARGE: Harlow have appointed Luke Heskett as captain (HSP0647135)

Doubts may persist as to whether Heskett will be overloaded as he is still at Loughborough University.

The 21-year-old is in the final year of his Sports and Leisure Management degree.

However, Butler said: "He's very dedicated and will come down on a Friday. He will come back whenever he can."

Butler said that former Essex bowler Andrew McGarry is staying at the club and this will be a key factor.

McGarry's quality as a bowler speaks for itself but Butler said the former county cricketer has been influential in the improvement of all-rounder Luke Monger.

"Andrew has massive experience. He has worked closely with Luke who has improved a lot," he said.

"Luke is quite capable of scoring 300 runs and taking 30 wickets."

Butler's decision to leave Harlow was fairly clear-cut but he has had a change of heart about his new destination.

He will not be joining his old team-mate McNally at Saracens Hertfordshire League club Ware, but going back to his first club Billericay after a late change of heart.

Butler was at Billericay before he played for West Essex and Harlow. He will be teaming up with his brother Nick Butler.

"I stayed on at Harlow to help Jason [McNally], but I never felt I would be staying there for the rest of my cricket days," he said.

"Keith Piper [(ex-Warwickshire wicket-keeper) was a big draw at Ware. They have a lot of experienced players there, but my brother is at Billericay and my parents live just round the corner from the ground. There is a fantastic set-up there."

Promoted side beat Ladies

Harlow 1, Maldon & Little Baddow 3

Essex Women's Hockey League, premier division

PROMOTED Maldon & Little Baddow proved too strong for Harlow Ladies as Emma Tweddle's side succumbed to a second league defeat of the campaign.

The hosts opened the scoring after seven minutes when Anna Ferdinando intercepted a Maldon loose ball and played in Sonya Amos who advanced before rifling over the oncoming keeper.

With 12 minutes gone the visitors levelled when a cross from the right split the Harlow defence. Linda Rowley, in the Harlow goal, was unable to stop a powerful shot from the Maldon forward.

Harlow captain Emma Tweddle was unlucky not to score from a penalty corner routine.

At the other end, defender Anita Shearman denied the visitors.

Maldon broke the deadlock after 23 minutes. Pressure in the Harlow circle enabled a visiting midfielder to fire home from 10 yards out.

Bethan Spencer shot just wide of the near post after the break, while Ferdinando's shot was saved by the keeper.

With just eight minutes remaining the visitors sealed victory with a swift counter attack. Despite admirable attempts to break up the play by Liezel Hansson and Petra Trimble, a Maldon player slipped the ball home to claim all three points.

Harlow visit runaway league leaders Old Deferrians on Saturday.

HARLOW LADIES: Rowley, Shearman, Hansson, Lewis, Trimble, Douglas, Tweddle, Figg, Spencer, Amos, Ferdinando.

EAST MEN'S LEAGUE, div four south east: East London II 3, Harlow 2.

Magnificent Murtagh breaks 13-year record

Running

A THIRTEEN year-old Harlow Running Club record was broken by Steve Murtagh at the Stevenage Half Marathon.

Murtagh's fantastic time of 1 hour, 17 minutes and 31 seconds broke the veteran 45 record which had stood since 1997.

Murtagh finished in 9th place out of 569 runners on Sunday.

This was a personal best (PB) time for the distance and also good enough to win the Vet 40 trophy.

He was followed home by Jamie Jephcott, who was 34th in an excellent 1:25.17, also a PB.

John Tennant finished in 83rd place and secured second spot in the Vet 60 category in 1:32.29.

Matt Jones was 188th in 1:41.23.

Bedford hit Bulls eye with late, late winner

BEDFORD Bulls were over the moon as they edged out Harlow Hawks 68-66 in a thrilling National Founders Cup East Region group game.

Hawks started the better of the two teams by racing to a 12-6 lead in the first five minutes, after two inside moves from Luke Atkinson and long-range shooting from Shab Niaz and Dave Spashett.

But Bulls hit back and led 23-15 at the end of the first quarter.

Hawks went on a 17-4 run in the second period with scores from Nick Moss and Atkinson before Niaz executed a rare 4-point play for a 33-32 lead.

In the third quarter, in-form Simon Atkinson caused all sorts of problems by powering through to score. He added nine points to make it 51-44 in Hawks' favour.

The visitors appeared to be cruising to victory as Girts Strikauskis added two long-range efforts and S. Atkinson continued to get offensive rebounds which led to scores.

But with a 10-points advantage, Harlow then pressed the self destruct button.

A series of turnover scores levelled the match at 66-66.

And with three seconds remaining the hosts snatched the winning two-pointer.

Coach Niaz added "Some poor decisions from players and coaching staff accompanied by poor free throw shooting cost us the game. We should have closed out the game in that situation, but now we have to pick ourselves up for the next game."

HARLOW HAWKS: S. Atkinson (16pts), Strikauskis (11), L. Atkinson (10), Allan (8), S. Niaz (7), Haddow (4), Norkeliunas (4), Spashett (3), Moss (3), Burgess.

That's not a fair cop!

Meikle move breaks down over wage demands

FULL-time cop and Cheshunt striker Chris Meikle was happy to move to Harlow Town FC – for £200 a week!

That was the astounding figure bounded around this week as the player – who showed the Hawks exactly what they are missing with a man-of-the-match performance AGAINST Harlow Town on Saturday – looks set to remain at Theobalds Lane.

Hawks boss Kevin Warren admitted defeat in his pursuit of the pacy frontman this week.

He said Cheshunt had matched their weekly wage offer believed to be £100 a week.

The Ambers also had an ace up their sleeve in the fact they have Meikle's boss on their coaching staff!

This enables Meikle to skip some training sessions and keep a working rota that allows him to play most matches.

Ambers boss Bob Dearie said: "Chris turned them down. It was pretty much to do with work commitments. He's a PCSO (Police Community Support Officer) and he does miss some training through work, but Barry Green, my coach, is his boss so we can work around it sometimes."

Meikle was also said to be unhappy when he was not guaranteed a place in the starting line-up for every game after speaking to Warren last week.

Warren said: "Meikle will not be coming. Cheshunt have offered him the same money we were. Cheshunt is on his door step as well, and it fits in with his work."

Warren has no other strikers lined up, but has brought in young Barnet centre-half Reece Yorke on loan.

He already has had one loan spell at Barrows Farm this season.

He might be needed to stabilise a back four which has now conceded EIGHT goals in two games.

This comes after four clean sheets in the Ryman League division one north in October.

The Hawks chief expects his side to bounce back this Saturday in the league at promotion-chasing Wingate & Finchley.

Influential midfielder Danny Brown will definitely start in this game after coming on for the last 25 minutes of Tuesday's shock 4-0 defeat at home to Brentwood Town.

A rib injury has kept him out for the last four games.

Striker Che Stadhart will also return. A back injury kept him out of the Brentwood game.

Meanwhile, the Hawks have suffered a blow with the news that in-form midfielder Clark Akers will be out for four weeks with the ankle ligament injury he sustained against Carshalton Athletic in the FA Trophy win.

"We will miss Clark. He was bang in form. This does not help, but the players we have are more than good enough," Warren added. "I'm sure we will bounce back. I'm not trying to paper over the cracks. Wingate will be a difficult game."

Forget the fireworks, Hawks need a rocket!

IF October was heaven for Hawks fans, November is quickly turning into hell!

Having not let in a single goal in the Ryman League division one north, Harlow Town have conceded EIGHT in two games, following Tuesday's 4-0 debacle at home to neighbours Brentwood Town, easily the Hawks' worst home performance of the campaign.

And having hit the summit just 12 days ago, Harlow have now plummeted to eighth.

Hawks boss Kevin Warren was seething at the performance. Speaking after the game, he said: "In October we did not concede and we were winning every game. It just did not happen tonight. In the first 10 minutes we created chances but we did not take them," he said.

"They [Brentwood] went up and scored and you could see the confidence from the players drain. At the end of the day I put the players out there. I pick the side and will take the flak for it." Hawks were missing striker Che Stadhart (back) but key midfielder Danny Brown was on the bench.

Steve Ferguson and Dave Cowley went close early on before the visitors were denied an opening goal on 13 minutes when Rhys Madden made a tremendous save. The keeper flew to his right to tip Joel Barnett's flick around a post and did not get the credit he deserved when the referee only
